

presents a talk by New Zealand Ambassador Don MacKay and campaigner Mary Wareham

"Banning Cluster Bombs: New Zealand's Role"

Monday 14 September 2009

5.30pm-7.00pm

Room CO304, Kelburn Campus
Victoria University of Wellington

The speakers will discuss New Zealand's role in the establishment of the 2008 treaty banning cluster bombs as well as domestic legislation to implement the ban. MacKay led New Zealand's engagement in the diplomatic process that negotiated the 2008 Convention on Cluster Munitions, while Wareham coordinates Aotearoa New Zealand Cluster Munition Coalition (ANZCMC).
